Belgian presidency of the Council of the EU
1 Jan 24: The Belgian term takes place January - June 2024. Belgium assumes the rotating presidency for the thirteenth time, at a moment when the European Union stands at a crossroads, dealing with the consequences of the Russian illegal aggression in Ukraine, the pandemic, the energy crisis, disinformation, extreme climate events, and a renewed conflict in the Middle East. The Belgian presidency will work towards better protecting European citizens, strengthening cooperation, and preparing a shared future. It will focus on six thematic areas, under the motto ‘Protect. Strengthen. Prepare.’ and will provide particular attention to maintaining unwavering support to Ukraine. It will support the adoption of the Strategic Agenda 2024-2029 and prepare discussions on the future of the European Union.

Mental health: cross-sectoral approach to include culture
30 Nov 23: The Council of the EU adopted Conclusions on mental health. The conclusions highlight the importance of addressing mental health and well-being in different contexts in the life course, which benefits both individuals and societies. They recognise the beneficial role of communities, schools, sports and culture in strengthening mental health and life-long mental well-being. The conclusions invite member states to elaborate actions plans or strategies with a cross-sectoral approach to mental health, addressing not only health, but also employment, education, digitalisation and AI, culture, environment and climate factors, among other things.

European Commission commits to a “Youth Check”
10 Jan: the European Commission announced that they will be implementing a “Youth Check”. The “Youth Check” is an initiative aimed at ensuring that EU policies consider the impact on young people during the policy design phase. Its goal is to make sure that the needs and voices of young people are considered across various policy areas. For years, the European Youth Forum has advocated for such a tool to bring young people into the heart of policy making - so that legislation can finally be designed with young people and future generations in mind. This development has been made possible through support from the Council of the EU, the Committee of the Regions and the European Economic and Social Committee - all of which have also called for the implementation of this tool at EU level.

A European approach to artificial intelligence
Jan 2024: the Commission adopted the AI@EC Communication, outlining strategies for improving the Commission's own capabilities in the field of Artificial Intelligence (AI) while emphasizing the importance of safe, transparent, and human-centered use of AI technologies. The guidance (included in the Communication), encourages the Commission to internally adapt, innovate, and adopt AI early on to set an example of best practices. Maximising resources and coordinating investments is a critical component of AI excellence. Both the Horizon Europe and Digital Europe programmes will invest €1 billion per year in AI. The Commission will also mobilise additional investments from the private sector and the Member States in order to reach an annual investment volume of €20 billion over the course of the digital decade. The Recovery and Resilience Facility makes €134 billion available for digital. This will be a game-changer, allowing Europe to amplify its ambitions and become a global leader in developing cutting-edge, trustworthy AI.

EU budget 2025-7: proposal for cuts to Multiannual Financial Framework leaked
Nov 2023: EU Member States ambassadors discussed a new budget proposal made by the Spanish Presidency for the remaining 2025-2027 period of the current Multiannual Financial Framework (MFF). The working document outlined three scenarios for cutting EU funding for 2025-7, including one that suggests a cut as high as 13.5%. If agreed to by the member states and subsequently by the European Parliament, this could cost EU researchers as much as €5.3 billion in the worst case and €1.3 billion in the smallest proposed cut is applied. While Horizon Europe would be in line for the biggest cut, other research-related programmes, such as Erasmus+, EU4Health and Digital Europe, would also see cuts as high as 13.5%. Find out more here.
Council of Europe

Steering Committee for Culture, Heritage and Landscape (CDCPP)
The 12th session was held 15-17 November 2023 in Strasbourg. It included a thematic session on the specific role of culture, heritage and landscape in giving children and young people the necessary references, such as mutual understanding, respect, solidarity, a sense of history, etc to promote positive creativity that will help counter violence or destruction. The thematic session focused in particular on the following issues: The importance of cultural literacy – why and how; Formal education as a common basis – opportunities and intrinsic limits (national core curricula, qualification requirements, teachers’ competences); Exploring alternative non-formal approaches (hobbies and leisure activities, lifelong learning for all ages, digital engagement, ...); Cultural services – their role in relation to access to information, preserving mental wellbeing and participation in society.

The Netherlands signs the Faro Convention
10 Jan: In the presence of the Deputy Secretary General of the Council of Europe, the Permanent Representative of Netherlands to the Council of Europe signed the Council of Europe Framework Convention on the Value of Cultural Heritage for Society (also known as the Faro Convention). This latest signature brings the total number of signatures to 5, in addition to the 24 member States that have ratified the Convention. The Netherlands’ signature should further encourage citizen engagement in cultural heritage governance and the development of new bottom-up initiatives in this domain, such as the initiatives that already form part of the Dutch Cultural Heritage Agency’s ongoing Faro programme.

32nd EBLIDA Conference: Charting the future of libraries/ Staffing the library of the future

Due to economic challenges, demographic changes, developments within the information society – in social media and in artificial intelligence- and the threats to democracy, the needs of citizens and of society are changing in an unprecedented speed and direction. Libraries – as always – try to adjust to the needs of the community they serve. Looking back, the changes in libraries in the past decades have been enormous, transformative and are reflective of a strong and flexible profession. It is no longer the case that training in library academies sufficiently prepares students for the profession at hand. The speed of change has surpassed the time needed to prepare traditional curricula and execute training programs. Training programs in library academies therefore lag behind the demands of the sector. It is our aspiration that the conference will lead to new initiatives for exchange and cooperation to the benefit of the future of libraries in Europe. The EBLIDA conference takes place in Lisbon April 9-10, 2024, early bird registration until 11 Feb.
